

LexSciBowl 2016

Sponsor Information

COMPETITION

LexSciBowl 2016 will bring together almost 100 of the top science and math students in the region for its second annual competition, full of exhilarating speed, extensive knowledge, and spectacular intelligence. By sponsoring, you'll be both enabling an amazing middle school outreach opportunity and supporting one of the nation's most recognized National High School Science Bowl teams.

INSPIRATION

Our mission is to create a science and math competition accessible and fun for all students from all places. We believe that technological progress depends on people who have a real, unshakable passion for science. This passion doesn't just come out of nowhere: it comes from having exciting and positive experiences that shape a student's dream of the future.

RECOGNITION

Sponsoring LexSciBowl means showing off your brand to some of the best and brightest middle school students in New England. After all, recruiting opportunities are only four or five years away, and you can make a lasting impression that you care about advancing the next generation of intellectual pioneers.
